Looking for a fabulous hotel, but don't want to spend a fortune? Here's where to indulge like jet-setters without dropping major coin.

BUCUTI BEACH RESORT, ARUBA

Mega hotels may dominate Aruba, but Bucuti offers a boutique-style alternative. First, there's the size: At 104 rooms, the hotel is already more intimate than the others. Plus, the resort caters to adults only, so the pool area is Marco Polo-free, and there are attendants on the beach to fill your requests for piña colodas and other libations. The look is also more designer-chic than mainstream, and the Tara Suites ($295 per night), which have kitchenettes and separate sitting rooms, feel far from the island's crowds. Doubles from $210 (low season), including breakfast; Tel: 888-428-2884; www.bucuti.com. -C. T.
