Most Caribbean hotels were designed for romantic escapes, with canopied beds, luxury spas and infinity pools overlooking the beach. However, some are better than others for staying with your significant other. Here are some of the most romantic hotels in the Caribbean to get you inspired:

The Bucuti & Tara Beach Resort in Aruba is a romantic, adults-only resort. This 104-room property has 14 acres of beach, and the main activity here involves staying on the sand under shaded palapas; there is also a chic infinity pool. Rooms have higher-end amenities such as charging docks, iHome systems, and built-in TVs in the bathroom mirrors. Breakfast buffet is served daily, and dining includes a five-course menus at the intimate gourmet spot, Carte Blanche -- and plenty more restaurants are nearby. A satisfied client says, "The resort is beautiful, the service outstanding, and the wide, white sand beach is stunning. The staff made us feel special and pampered all week."
